MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Graduates, Families, and Friends,

Congratulations! It is with great joy that we celebrate the distinguished accomplishments of our 2020-2021 Mesa Community College graduates. For each scholar, reaching this significant educational milestone is all the more remarkable and deserving of praise during these turbulent times.

Dedication, perseverance, innovation and spirits that could not be daunted anchored them on their paths to success. As the hope of a return to a brighter future rises, these graduates go forward prepared with new skills and knowledge placing them at the lead of our nation's recovery.

Joining with the faculty and staff of MCC, I share our pride in sending these graduates out into the world as critical thinkers and courageous leaders with compassionate hearts.

Today it is important that we acknowledge the parents, the spouses, the uncles, the aunts, the children and grandparents, and all those who were involved in supporting these graduates. Be proud of the part you have played and the sacrifices you have made so that they could arrive at this momentous benchmark in their education.

We trust that MCC has sparked in these graduates the wonder and excitement of a lifelong journey of learning. I urge them to keep in touch with their MCC friends, professors and mentors. As a graduate, you now join a rich legacy of notable alumni that stretches back more than half a century. Please keep us informed of your accomplishments. We look forward to sharing your stories of success that will inspire future students to walk in your footsteps.

Go forth Class of 2021 to achieve, inspire and be Thunderbird strong!

MESSAGE FROM THE FACULTY

Dear 2021 Graduates of Mesa Community College,

On behalf of the faculty of Mesa Community College, I want to extend a whole-hearted congratulations to all of you. You have faced unique challenges this past year including isolation from friends and family, changed work environments, online learning that you navigated for yourselves and often your children, and more. Yet, you have persevered. We are all proud of and inspired by your ingenuity, determination, and persistence.

We hope that you take what you have learned at MCC and use it to flourish in your lives and thrive toward your goals. These may be the writing skills that you use to express your vision; the reading skills to understand what is being presented to you; the critical thinking skills to analyze disparate pieces of information and weigh their value appropriately; and the communication, collaboration, and leadership skills used to work with others. Along with these skills, hopefully you are also taking with you that there are individuals who will continue to believe in who you are as a whole person and what you have to offer the world.

As you leave MCC, you are entering a world that is changing more than it has in many of our lifetimes, as it grapples with difficult social justice issues. People are fighting to be seen, heard, respected, and accepted as equals. We are all affected by this in some way and have a role to play in advancing equality. This will not always be easy. However, when times become tough, never forget that you are not alone in your journey. Look to those who lift you up, believe in you, and help you achieve your goals.

Finally, I encourage you to stay in contact with your faculty even after you have graduated. We are invested in your success and love hearing from you.

Get out there and make things happen!

Go Thunderbirds!

MS. MARIA DAWES, CLASS HONORS SPEAKER

“We have shown astonishing perseverance by coming together during a year of life-changing transformation and opportunity to overcome.”

Maria Estrella Dawes, a sophomore at Mesa Community College (MCC), is a student leader active in community advocacy. From her beginnings as a single mother to being a married mother of two, she balances her commitment to the community while maintaining high academic standards and working. Through her concerted efforts with the college and community, Maria has shown consistently that she is attentive to the growth and well-being of others. During her tenure at MCC, she has been involved with multiple campus initiatives and local and national organizations, oftentimes serving in leadership roles.

During the past year, Maria has become a member of MCC’s Diversity, Equity, Inclusion Council. Also, as a Phi Theta Kappa officer, she contributed to the chapter’s award-winning College Project, with a project to develop equity-minded change agents. Additionally, when COVID-19 began, Maria formed Arizona’s first student-led philanthropic organization of the Student Support Foundation in which student leaders provided over $3,700 in emergency assistance to fellow students. Maria is pursuing a degree in social work and public policy. Her ultimate goal is to earn a Ph.D. degree in Social Policy in order to close income and equity gaps through access to education and workforce development programs.

About Mesa Community College

Mesa Community College was established in April 1965 by action of the Maricopa County Community College Governing Board. It is one of the nation's largest community colleges with an enrollment of approximately 30,000 students annually. Learning is at the heart of the college's mission, providing lifelong opportunities to a diverse student population while promoting excellence in teaching and learning. MCC provides access to students through its multiple locations. It has two comprehensive campuses (MCC Southern and Dobson and MCC Red Mountain) and several extended campus locations strategically located around the East Valley. MCC is a resource for transfer education, career preparation, developmental education, economic development, and continuous learning.

Academic Regalia

The gowns worn at traditional graduation ceremonies date back to at least the 13th century; when most professors were clergymen and were obliged by canon law to wear robes. The associate's and bachelor's gowns hang only to the knee, have pointed sleeves, no hood or neckpiece, and a square-top cap with a tassel. The master's gown has closed sleeves, the arm coming through a slit in the elbow, a square cap with a black tassel, and a hood in the color of the discipline. The doctor's gown is distinguished by three bars on each sleeve, a hood with colorful lining, and a square cap with a gold tassel. The velvet trim of the doctor's gown and hood has colors representative of the discipline of learning of the individual; for example, white for arts and letters, light blue for education, orange for engineering, pink for music, dark blue for philosophy, and golden yellow for science. Many universities, especially those in Europe, have distinctive gowns, caps, and hoods.

Ceremonial Academic Mace

The mace was originally a weapon of offense, carried into battle by princes and medieval bishops. During the Middle Ages, the mace became a more elaborate weapon, and by the 14th century it had become a symbol of lawful authority carried by city mayors and college rectors. Like the rector of the medieval university, the modern college president is charged with protection of the special mission that society has vested in higher education. The ceremonial mace has thus emerged as a symbol of the authority of the president in the acquisition, preservation, and transmission of knowledge by the college in a service to society. The mace also symbolizes the academic sovereignty of the college and serves as notice that the president, vested with academic authority by the Governing Board, will act to preserve and protect the mission of the college. The mace is only used in official commencement ceremonies. The ceremonial mace of Mesa Community College was redesigned in 2009.
